

EXPLORE CUBA - CARIBBEAN PEARL SCENTED WITH CIGARS!

Prague, January 5th 2016

Fripito, app that offers photography guides for mobile phones and tablets is introducing new guide to Cuba, an island in the Caribbean Sea, which became famous not only for its revolutionary history, but also for its distinctive beauty and of course cigars. The guide will be available with a 50% discount until January 17. The author of the guide is a Canadian traveler, photographer and journalist Brendan van Son.

Fripito presents a new guide that will help photographers and travelers to discover the beauty of the Cuban countryside, traditional colonial architecture, unique character of the local culture and also the friendly nature of the local people. The photo guide presents many interesting places like Trinidad, Old Havana, Viñales, Cienfuegos, Las Terrazas, Camaguey and Santa Clara. And as a bonus, the guide named "Captivated by Cuba" also brings 7 priceless and practical tips on how to shoot great portraits.

The author of more than 60 photos is the Canadian traveler, photographer and journalist Brendan van Son, who has also included his travel advices and tips for photographers, regarding photo gear for the trip, camera settings, good lighting and the best time slots for shooting at the given locations. All the photos include exact GPS coordinates and all the content, including the maps, is also available offline after purchase.

In the first week after its launch, the "Captivated by Cuba" guide will be available for download for a discounted price of 3.99 USD (the offer is valid until January 17th, 2016).

Fripito customers may also purchase other available guides, among them Iceland, Azores, China, Prague, wine region of Palava Hills, Moravian Tuscany, Czech Paradise, Paris, Safari in JAR, Bohemian Switzerland, London, Dubai, Canary Island, New York, Madeira, Philippines, or Bolivia; or download a free sample of the upcoming guides, such as U.S. National Parks, Japan, Israel, Botswana, Namibia, and many more.

Brendan van Son is a travel photographer and journalist from a small town in Canada called Rocky Mountain House. After completing degrees in Political Science and Geography in 2008 he headed to South America to take a job that paid him only $50 a week, but allowed him to travel. He knew within 3 days of arriving in South America that he'd never stop traveling, that he needed to find a way to meld travel into his career, no matter what it took.

Over 5 years later now, he's visited around 80 countries on 6 different continents. He's done some crazy things like drive a $600 scooter down the west side of Africa. He's done some amazing things, as well. He counts his blessings that he is able to live this lifestyle.

In the 5 years since he's engaged in the life of a travel photographer and journalist his work has been in a number of major publications such as The Guardian. His travels themselves have also been featured in various major media outlets such as the BBC, National Geographic Traveler, and others. He has no intention of slowing down. His travel stories can be found on his blog <http://www.brendansadventures.com>.

The app offers two types of guides according to their content. If you purchase a guide tagged as "Inspiration", you will receive practical information about the best times to visit, transportation, accommodation, local cuisine, etc.. Your guide will also include at least 50 images with all the technical information about how the picture was taken, and further tips, such as: when to go, what not to forget, or what to avoid.

A guide tagged as “Photo Guide” includes, in addition to the Inspiration content, a detailed time schedule which will help user to make the best use of his time.

A Fripito user can also download for free a guide tagged as “Coming Soon”, where you get a basic description of an up-coming guide, including 10 images with hints and tips. The prices for each guide vary from US$ 3.99 to US$ 8.99, according to their content.
