

EXPLORE ROTTERDAM, THE CITY OF STUNNING ARCHITECTURE!

Las Vegas, October 25th, 2016

Welcome a new addition to the list of photo guides in the Fripito application designed for smart phones and tablets. A photo guide of Rotterdam, the largest European harbor and city full of modern architecture, is available with a 50% discount until November 6th, 2016. The author of the guide is a Dutch couple of photographers, Roger and Paula Berk.

Fripito presents a new guide that will help photographers and travelers to explore the city of Rotterdam, city that started to rise like a Phoenix from the ashes after the devastating bombardment during WW2, where on the place of old destroyed houses a brand new city center full of stunning modern architecture was built. The new guide will introduce the famous Cube houses, the Blaak Tower, the Erasmus Bridge and the unique decoration of the Market Hall and much more. The guide also encompasses the historical aspect of Rotterdam, and takes the users to the old port Oude Haven, Delfshaven, and to the famous New York Hotel on the Wilhelmina Pier, where thousands of people were leaving to America to start a new life.

The authors of more than 100 photos are the Dutch couple of photographers Roger and Paula Berk. They have also included their travel advice and tips for photographers, regarding recommended photo gear for the trip, camera settings, good lighting and the best time slots for shooting at the given locations. All the photos include exact GPS coordinates and all the content, including the maps, is also available offline after purchase.

The “Rotterdam, City of Architecture” guide is now available for download for a discounted price of 3.99 USD (the offer is valid until November 6th, 2016).
